3.2. Pre-specified parameters per thematic area

Implementing efficient and high-quality asylum procedures in accordance with the relevant EU law

(i) Asylum procedures and structures

Directly selected or pre-identified Support Measures

Support Measure name	Improvement of the Regional Asylum Offices
Support Measure type	Project
Objectives	The objective of the support measure is to improve current regional asylum offices (RAO's), in order to increase the capacity in treating asylum cases. These include improving the overall standard of the offices, especially with a focus on the waiting rooms and hearing rooms in which asylum seekers are received.
Strategic Focus	The support measure would increase the capacity of the asylum offices to carry out their daily work. This would lead to more cases being handled at the RAO's and the procedures becoming more efficient. The impact for the final beneficiaries would be more comfortable and secure waiting and hearing areas and shorter waiting times for asylum decisions. It would also lead to a decrease in pending cases which would contribute to the overall amelioration of the asylum procedure in Greece. The above action is part of the National strategy for migration which aims to improve the Asylum Process and minimize the impact on the local communities by creating/improving infrastructures and reducing the burden on local communities by speeding up the Asylum procedures in accordance to the European regulations for migration.

(ii) Asylum instruments and management processes

Directly selected or pre-identified Support Measures

Support Measure name	Athens Solidarity Center
Support Measure type	Programme
Objectives	The Solidarity Centres operated by SolidarityNow in Athens and Thessaloniki support and em-power refugees, asylum seekers and migrants to become active and productive members of society. The project aims to support 6,400 persons with their asylum procedure (legal aid and legal representation, preparation of documentation and psychological assessments) and strengthen integration efforts of Third Country Nationals (empowerment, access to labor market, tax registration, administrative support and accessing states services
Strategic Focus	The operation of the Athens and Thessaloniki Solidarity Centres form an effective response and facilitation for the challenges detailed above and specifically applying for asylum (psychosocial and legal services), accessing accommodation (social service), ensuring protection (psychosocial and legal services), accessing state services (medical, welfare etc.), overcoming administrative challenges (psychosocial service and accountant), and joining the labor market (employability service and accountant). The holistic nature of the services provided allow Solidarity Now to address the needs of individuals in their entirety, while the excellent and long-standing collaborations established with other stakeholders (Municipality of Athens, CSOs and international organizations, refugee and migrant communities and others) will enhance and strengthen the impact of the services provided. The existence of an office of the Greek Asylum Office within the ASC, particularly for vulnerable cases – unaccompanied minors – will ensure the provision of comprehensive and targeted support to this very vulnerable groups.

(iii) Capacity building and knowledge transfer in the asylum procedure context

Support Measure name	Enhancing the Asylum Process for vulnerable asylum seekers in Greece - Capacity building and knowledge transfer of personnel working in the asylum procedure.
Support Measure type	Project
Objectives	The Support Measure is intended to enhance the Asylum Process for the Asylum Seekers with vulnerability status by ensuring that the two Asylum Units will be able to operate at full capacity. The Measure will assist the vulnerable migrants but will also contribute on institutional and policy levels. RIS will also be supported.
Strategic Focus	The Asylum Service is the relevant Service for processing asylum and related requests and from 2013 onwards over 423.000 asylum applications have been submitted to the Service. Asylum Service operates 24 Regional offices and Asylum Units and has about 900 employees, 60% being fixed-term contract employees. During the 10 years of operation, Asylum Service has gained valuable experience in handling asylum applications (in many cases in harsh conditions) and dealing with asylum seekers with vulnerability status, In this context and in order to tackle the challenge of the increasing refugee flows – and the corresponding increase on the number of Asylum seekers with vulnerability status, to guarantee access to asylum process and provide a timely conclusion of the examination of asylum applications, the Greek Asylum Service needed to expand its capacity and decided the operation of two new Asylum Units, in Athens and in Thessaloniki, specialized on Asylum seekers with vulnerability status.

Support Measure name	National Emergency Response Mechanism (NERM)
Support Measure type	Programme
Objectives	The objective of the proposed project is to enhance the protection and mitigate risks of abuse, exploitation, and trafficking to the most vulnerable of UMC, those identified living homeless or in precarious accommodation conditions through support the operational aspect of National Emergency Response Mechanism's services. The operational support involves (a) the function of Info Desks and Mobile Units by multi-sectorial team of highly skilled and experienced staff with the purpose of tracing homeless UMC, assessing their vulnerability, providing child protection services and referring the children to the national accommodation system, (b) the provision of tele-interpretation services to the NERM's Tracing Line for effective communication with homeless UMC contacting the Line asking for accommodation, and (c) escorting services to unaccompanied migrant children in order to be placed to accommodation facilities throughout Greece.

Strategic Focus	The National Emergency Response Mechanism (NERM) seeks to serve as an appropriate immediate response mechanism for unaccompanied migrant children identified homeless or in precarious living conditions, factoring in both accommodation needs, and broader protection needs. It is coordinated by SGVP (former SSPUAM) and involves the participation of several key stakeholders, namely one UN agency (IOM) and three NGOs (ARSIS, Network for the Rights of the Child-NRC and METAdrasi), while closely cooperating with key national authorities (the Hellenic Police, the Greek Asylum Service, and RIS). NERM aims, among others, to identify unaccompanied migrants children, ensure a child rights-based and comprehensive response while address the emergency need for accommodation for children who are homeless by providing holistic support to children until their referral and placement to the care arrangement that is deemed suitable according to their gender, age, and best interests.

Support Measure name	Voluntary returns
Support Measure type	Project
Objectives	The overall goal of the project is to increase the number of voluntary returns from Greece by hiring and training fixed-term employees on how to conduct voluntary return discussions with beneficiaries, more persons will learn about the availability of such an option. Furthermore, the project will fund the creation of information material on voluntary returns.

Strategic Focus	The above action is in accordance with the national strategy on migration since the voluntarily returns will reduce the impact on local communities and improve the asylum process.

(ix) Prevention of irregular migration

Directly selected or pre-identified Support Measures

Support Measure name	Integration in an Olympic Spirit
Support Measure type	Project
Objectives	The overall objective is to increase the integration of refugees in Greece. By doing so, the likelihood of irregular migration can be decreased. The participation in the events organized in the framework of the project can lead to creating a sense of being part of the local community.
Strategic Focus	The support measure will convey to a population of approximately 5.000 (2.000 unaccompanied minor and 3.000 asylum seekers in sites/cities) beneficiaries per year, focusing on the values and the general philosophy of Olympism, as a means to promote the principles of cultural diversity, peaceful coexistence and solidarity. The support measure contributes to the country strategy of successful integration as it is familiarizing asylum seekers with the culture and practices of host communities. By creating linkages and inter-cultural exchanges between the host and hosted communities, the project seeks to promote the cooperation of the communities, create the sense of being part of the same community through interconnected lives, and eventually jointly design and implement joint events, that will demonstrate the potential and benefits of migrants' integration. Activities will be designed through a participatory approach and will include: trainings and awareness-raising events around cultural orientation (basic notions concerning the European and Greek culture, history, tradition, contemporary customs etc.), life skills (e.g. communication skills, practical daily matters, financial literacy etc.), knowledge on practical aspects of European citizens' life (e.g. living and working in the EU), and on the shared European values (e.g. freedom, equality, justice) which draw from the spirit of Olympism. Other sensitization events and nation-wide media campaigns will also be organized to sensitize the local key stakeholders and further promote this initiative.

Support Measure name	Refugee Social Integration Programme: National framework for the acquisition of basic language skills – National Educational Material for Greek Language Learning
Support Measure type	Programme
Objectives	At the level of non-formal education, especially for adult refugees and migrants, it is a major challenge to organize a framework to support the social and labour integration.
Strategic Focus	Despite significant efforts to educate refugees, it seems that a uniform policy at national level for the provision of education to refugees to acquire basic skills in Greek has not been developed. The academic team will: 1. develop educational material, specific to the education of adult migrants, with focused methodology and thematic modules 2. which will also be delivered online, as an e-learning environment to promote flexible forms of continuing education.

Support Measure name	A Holistic Approach for the inclusion of refugees, migrants and asylum seekers in the workforce
Support Measure type	Programme
Objectives	Within the educational process, Odyssea creates a cultural hub that welcomes diverse mentalities and serves as an integrational stepping stone for vulnerable individuals to escape a state of dependency and achieve self-reliance. Each beneficiary receives the specific training that best responds to their specific needs and priorities identified during their initial introduction to the project. Training courses will include: Soft, digital and professional skills training, Empowerment against human trafficking and illegal migration, Vocational training and apprenticeships Moreover, the project will provide disadvantaged migrants with a means to achieve agency and social integration by actively engaging in their community's issues and discovering suitable career paths for themselves and bridge the industry representatives with talented job seekers in order to mitigate their barriers in workforce development while at the same time improving their social impact and the working conditions of vulnerable groups through DE&I training.
Strategic Focus	Odyssea has a strong track record of vocational training developed and provided in the fields of construction and the blue economy. Replying to the needs in the Shipbuilding and Repair Zone of Perama, Odyssea will develop and provide vocational training related to the professions of the zone. To ensure the quality of the training, Odyssea will collaborate with the UNION SHIPBUILDING - SHIPREPAIRING OF GREECE (SENAVI). SENAVI was founded with the mandate to address the problems of the NEZ Perama and achieve the best possible representation of all specialties and professionals, the entrepreneurs of NEZ Perama. With the support of SENAVI, Odyssea will develop tailor-made training for specialties of the zone including: - Sanders - Sheet metal workers - Applicators - Electricians - Electronics technicians - Electric welders - Cleaners - Construction of scaffolding workers - Boilermakers - Manoeuvre workers - Mechanics - Insulator workers - Shipbuilders - Ships' carpenters - Pipe fitters - Flame operators - Lifting and transport equipment operators – Painters. Another focus area will be the training and qualification of truck drivers. Following the great need in the labour market for this profession, Odyssea will collaborate with specialized professionals to train truck drivers. The outcome of the training course will be a professional licence of category C which translates to trucks up to 7500 kg gross weight, capable of towing a trailer up to 750 kg.

Support Measure name	The European way of life in response to religious fundamentalism and radicalization: Religion, politics and culture
Support Measure type	Programme
Objectives	This proposal aims to help refugees and migrants, who are legally in the country, to know the Greek and the European way of life. In particular, it aims to facilitate their social integration through a basic but also global acquaintance with the religion, culture and social reality of Greece and Europe. The strategic focus and relevance of the Support Measure is to make refugees and migrants to understand that the European way of life is a response to religious fundamentalism and radicalization, and premise for a peaceful and prosperous social coexistence. A six-month pilot academic program will take place for TCNs in the premises of the University. Outreach and translations will be held by UN agency or an NGO.
Strategic Focus	It is evident that religion has re-emerged in Western societies in a dynamic way in recent decades, claiming a central role in the public sphere. The creation of a more complex mosaic of religions in the modern European public space, is due between others to the successive migratory flows that mark the 21st century. This new map of religions intertwined with political, social and economic institutions, contributes to the formation of the modern multicultural society and at the same time it is linked to social tensions and phenomena of violence. All these make imperative the need for an interdisciplinary and in-depth approach of the role of religion in modern times society. Moreover, it is necessary to acquire a broader acquaintance with the religious phenomenon (religious literacy) and education about religion (teaching about religion). A network of experts in Balkan countries regarding the fake news in Religion will be created and two big conferences on this matter will be conducted. Moreover, an observatory regarding religious fake news in social media will be created.

Support Measure name	Cultivating Futures for Migrants
Support Measure type	Programme
Objectives	The primary objective of the project is to turn the current hardship and crisis faced by refugees and asylum seekers into a new beginning for them and an opportunity for Greece. It aims to help them regain their personal equilibrium, achieve self-sufficiency and integrate into Greek society. Such progress will not only benefit the refugees and asylum seekers themselves, but will also stimulate the Greek economy, reduce tensions between the indigenous and immigrant populations, provide new perspectives and ultimately enrich Greek society.
Strategic Focus	A key aspect of the project is the provision of psychological support to immigrants to help them overcome the emotional and mental barriers that may hinder their integration process. This includes counselling services, therapy sessions and support groups to address issues such as culture shock, homesickness and feelings of isolation.
