

Checklist for the Issuance of a SCHENGEN Visa for AIRPORT TRANSIT

PLEASE READ CAREFULLY!

As of June 2013, all diplomatic representations of the Schengen member states in Kenya have to capture the biometric data (finger scans & facial image) of persons applying for a Schengen visa. The data will be kept in the Visa Information System (VIS) for 5 years.

For further information: <https://www.sem.admin.ch/dam/data/sem/einreise/vis/leaflet-vis-en.pdf>

We encourage all applicants to make use of the online-application at www.swiss-visa.ch. Customers who apply online and make an appointment will be served first. Please print your E-Payment receipt when submitting your Online Visa application form.

If your finger scans have not been captured, personal appearance is mandatory when applying for a Schengen visa. Fingerprint scan is not necessary for children under the age of 12 years.

If your finger scans were collected within the last 59 months, then you won't have to give new fingerprints for your next visa application(s) and personal appearance is not necessary. However, you still have to book an appointment for the application to be lodged by yourself or your representative and you have to provide a copy of your visa sticker. If you are not sure or do not remember whether your fingerprints have been captured for a Schengen visa within the last 59 months, you have to appear in person.

You will still have to appear in person to give your fingerprints in case the previously collected fingerprints prove to be of insufficient quality.

The Swiss representation still reserves the right to ask the applicant to appear for a personal interview after checking his application.
