Embassy of Switzerland in Bangladesh

Online Visa Application

The Embassy of Switzerland in Dhaka is pleased to inform that starting from 3rd August 2015, it will be possible to register your visa application for a short-term Schengen visa (type A and C, for a stay of up to 90 days) online, by using the following link: www.swiss-visa.ch

Using this link, allows to register and to complete the visa application form with the help of an online tool. Please note that it is still necessary to phone to the Embassy in order to fix an appointment for handing in the printed online visa application form, together with the supporting documents.

The same requirements for supporting documents apply for applications handed in together with the online application form as for applications submitted together with the manually completed visa application form.

Please be aware that the “online-visa-application-form” is not applicable for visas type D for a sojourn in Switzerland exceeding 90 days, as well as for other visas type D.
