Declaration I

concerning the truthful completion of this document

I declare that I have answered the questions completely and correctly and affirm that my answers are true. I am aware that if the Embassy finds that there are contradictions or irregularities in my statements and in the documents submitted, the legalization and transmission of the documents may be significantly delayed.

Declaration II

concerning the voluntary verification of foreign civil status documents

The recognition of foreign civil status documents for the purpose of transcription in Switzerland is the exclusive competence of the competent cantonal civil status authority.

Experience shows that many cantons require a thorough verification of the authenticity of the documents by a trustworthy person of the competent Swiss representation abroad. The transmission of the non-legalized documents to the competent civil status supervisory authority in Switzerland for examination and decision, and their return to the representation can take several weeks, if not months. In addition to this, it can take several months for a thorough verification by a trustworthy person.

In order to speed up the transcription procedure, it is possible to ask the representation to carry out a thorough verification of the documents submitted directly (so-called voluntary document verification).

The conditions for a voluntary verification are as follows:

- The interested parties declare that they wish to initiate the voluntary verification procedure.
- The interested parties pay an advance covering the probable costs of the verification and the representation takes care of paying the trusted person in charge of the verification directly. The applicants do not have to make any further payments to third parties. Once the procedure has been completed, the representation issues a final invoice to the interested party.
- The fees and expenses relating to the verification are due regardless of its outcome.
- The identity of the person mandated to carry out the investigations is not disclosed.

A thorough verification of civil status documents by a trustworthy person may take several months and the result of the verification is in no way binding on the civil status authority competent for the decision.

I confirm that I have read the above and accept the conditions for a voluntary verification.

Autorisation

concerning the verification of authenticity of documents by a trusted lawyer of the Embassy

In order to speed up the processing of my application, I authorize the Swiss Embassy in Accra to appoint a trusted lawyer to verify the authenticity of the civil status documents submitted to the Embassy.

I agree to the following procedure:

- The lawyer will verify the entries in the various registers concerned, thus ensuring the authenticity of the form of a document.
- In order to verify the authenticity of the content of a document, the lawyer will question all persons involved (i.e. the applicant, family members, friends, employers, schools, etc.).

I agree that the final report of the trusted lawyer is an integral part of the file for verification of authenticity of civil status documents (e.g. for registration of a marriage in Switzerland, preparation of a marriage in Switzerland, application for family reunion, adoption, etc.).
